OLYMPIC BALLET THEATRE

Olympic Ballet Theatre (OBT) provides professional ballet performances that enrich the cultural fabric of our community. Our mission is to bring an expansive repertoire of classical, contemporary, and dramatic ballets to patrons of all ages.

Founded in 1981 and now under the leadership of co-artistic directors Mara Vinson and Oleg Gorboulev, OBT has become a mainstay of the north Puget Sound arts scene, regularly touring theaters in Everett and Edmonds.

OBT in Numbers

- 4 productions per season
- 20 performances per season
- 7,700 patrons each season
- 4,000 - social media followers
- 5,900 - email reach
- 111 students in Olympic Ballet School
(official ballet school of OBT)

With a cadre of very well-trained OBS students, fine OBT company dancers, and a handful of superb guest dancers, Artistic Directors Mara Vinson and Oleg Gorboulev pulled together and presented a terrific showing. Exciting, clean, good dancing, coupled with good production values, costumes and lighting. Importantly, the style of the ballet was imparted and true in each cast member."

- Dean Spear, Critical Dance, review of OBT's production of Don Quixote
